

What's in a Title? Comfort, knowledge, and style!

WHILE MOST OF US are familiar with the specialties that exist in certain careers, confusion exists in interior design. The term "interior designer" brings to mind those who select colors and decorative items and spend our money.

Carol Hudson

"Not so fast," says Carol, owner of Hudson Avenue Interiors. "I've been fortunate enough to love my career and provide my clients with the education, experience, and expertise required to tackle any kind of residential interior design project."

As an Allied Member and past District Director for ASID (American Society of Interior Designers), you can be confident that you're working with a professional who's met the qualifications required to join ASID.

"As soon as you have made the decision to decorate, build, or remodel, that's the time to contact me," says Carol. "There are so many considerations that go into a job that the sooner we begin organizing the project scope, the easier it will be to put each component in place before involving contractors. That will give you peace of mind about your choices and the upcoming changes and also will ensure that you'll stay within your budget.

"An interior designer saves you time and money by facilitating architectural and aesthetic processes and eliminating expensive redesigns like moving walls, electrical, plumbing, and surface selections. Imagine how unhappy you'd be if a kitchen remodel left you unable to cook and entertain. Now imagine you're holding an open house for guests and the food prep is so easy you feel like Rachel Ray. The spaces look so great that for the first time you actually enjoy your party. That's what I make sure of for you.

"From vision to creation, I'm passionate about getting the style you want for the dollars you want while making your project an exciting process for you. Give me a call and we'll start creating your vision!"
